Welcome to SHARE.

A message from Director Yonette Wilson-Williams

The Self Help And Resource Exchange (SHARE) model gives access to basic food, social services resources and information. As a social enterprise of Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Washington (CCADW), we foster financial stewardship, self-sufficiency and promote volunteerism by engaging the community.

Everyone deserves healthy food, which is why we offer our service to everyone.

Our model prioritizes:

- Self-sufficiency – We sell food to people, eliminating the stigma of receiving a handout and encouraging pride in feeding one's-self and family. Our SHARE food packages can feed a family for a week.
- Volunteerism – Our volunteers are the ones who make SHARE happen. They work hard in sorting out the groceries into family-sized portions, but they always do it with an open heart and smile.
- Financial Stewardship – We provide food staples at a fraction of the cost, helping to extend a family's food budget.
- Resource Exchange – As a program of CCADW and a trusted government and non-profit partner, we offer additional resources and information throughout the D.C. metropolitan area.

So now that you know all that SHARE offers, "dig in" and discover how we can strengthen your community together!

Yonette Wilson-Williams

"Partnering with SHARE to provide residents with protein boxes during the COVID-19 pandemic was an easy and cost effective way to meet an essential need of our community. And participants loved it! Thank you, SHARE!"

- Diana Tato, Program Manager, Food Security Plan, Montgomery County, Department of Health and Human Services
