WE REACHED NEARLY
143,000
PEOPLE IN THE
DC & MARYLAND REGION
last year alone.

Last year, we worked with 142,949 men, women, and children. Some of those services come in the form of highly intensive, long-term care for a smaller number of people, like our work with individuals living with developmental disabilities. Other programs, such as our Southern Maryland Food Bank and low-barrier shelters see a high number of people over shorter periods of time. We do our best to capture an accurate picture of how many individual people we serve—sometimes it can be challenging, as many of our clients receive multiple services from more than one program, or are served repeatedly throughout the year.

Beverly and Lois: Creating a Community

TO MANY, BEVERLY AND LOIS SEEM LIKE ANY OTHER LONG-TIME FRIENDS, BUT FOR THEM THE FRIENDSHIP GOES MUCH DEEPER AND COMES FROM A PLACE OF COMMUNITY FELLOWSHIP.

Their friendship was forged through their weekly visits to the Southern Maryland Food Bank's Meals & Hope Food Truck. The duo, like so many others in our region, work hard to ensure their families don't struggle with food insecurity. Each week, they join a line of people from Charles County to greet the truck, which serves a regular dinner provided by the staff and volunteers of the Southern Maryland Food Bank.

The truck, which visits seven sites in Southern Maryland each month, provides many in the community who live on a limited income the ability to enjoy a delicious, nutritious, and warm meal at no cost. Lois, who is a teacher's aide at a local school knows her salary doesn't leave much wiggle room in her budget so knowing Catholic Charities is there has eased her mind. The program also allows her to help feed her elderly aunt and uncle. Beverly relies on the Meals & Hope Food Truck to feed six members of her family.

Each week, those in line are greeted with a warm welcome as well as a warm meal. Through the Meals & Hope Food Truck, Catholic Charities is able to grow its roots in Southern Maryland and inspire friendships like Lois and Beverly's.

THROUGH THE MEALS & HOPE FOOD TRUCK, CATHOLIC CHARITIES IS ABLE TO GROW ITS ROOTS IN SOUTHERN MARYLAND AND INSPIRE FRIENDSHIPS LIKE LOIS AND BEVERLY'S.

Lack of housing can be a barrier to achieving many other goals. Our Homeless and Housing Services are here to meet the needs of some of the region's most vulnerable. Emergency low-barrier shelters meet the immediate need of a place to sleep, but many of our housing programs focus on the long-term goal of living independently. We continue to expand our services and programs to ensure those experiencing homelessness have a path to finding a place to call home.

Adult and Children Clinical Services

Poverty should not be a barrier to receiving high-quality care and services, and our Adult and Children Clinical Services programs bring the professional care so desperately needed to those most vulnerable. Whether it is pro bono legal assistance, lower-cost health and dental care for the uninsured, or emergency services for those in crisis, we are here to meet the needs of our community.

Ludovick: Success in a New Country

WHEN HIS MOTHER LEFT HER SIX CHILDREN IN CAMEROON TO COME TO THE UNITED STATES, SHE ENVISIONED CREATING A BETTER LIFE FOR THEM ALL.

He was soon enrolled in various programs and services offered to help him assimilate, Catholic Charities staff took the time to learn about his needs and goals. He enrolled in English as a Second Language (ESOL) classes, and as his language skills began improving so did his hopes for the future.

It wasn't long before Catholic Charities staff learned that Ludovick had worked construction in Cameroon. They worked to enroll him in the Green Construction program. This nationally certified curriculum prepares graduates for a career in the construction industry as they receive a nationally accredited certificate in green construction.

This past spring, Ludovick used his English skills to share his story as part of his graduation ceremony, but his success hasn't ended. He is currently working full-time in the construction and concrete industry. He is a member of the Carpenters Union in Upper Marlboro, and he plans to continue learning as much about the industry as he can. He sees his chosen career path as a way to build for the next generation and leave a legacy through his work.

“COMING TO CATHOLIC CHARITIES ALLOWED ME TO START HAVING HOPE AND EXPERIENCES.”

Ludovick

She had hoped all her children would soon follow her to her new country. Unfortunately, only one of her children was approved to come to the United States. Ludovick, a trained construction worker in his home land soon found himself in a new country where he didn't speak the language and his skills were no longer capable of landing him a job.

Without a resume, past experience, or a strong grasp on the language of his new country, Ludovick found every interview he went on ended with the same response—No. After struggling to make ends meet, a family friend suggested he reach out to Catholic Charities.

Ramona and Cami: From Mentor to Friend

RAMONA WAS LIVING IN A HALFWAY HOUSE AFTER BEING INCARCERATED FOR MORE THAN SIX YEARS. SHE FOUND HERSELF FACING MANY NAYSAYERS. SHE KNEW IN ORDER TO GET HER LIFE BACK SHE NEEDED TO STICK TO HER GOALS.

Cami was like many young people living in DC, looking for a way to give back to her city. Several friends recommended she look into Catholic Charities, noting they helped many people and there would likely be a program that would interest her.

Ramona and Cami met through the Welcome Home Reentry Program, and what seemed like an unlikely duo has forged into a true friendship. Initially bonding over their shared interest in fitness, the two would take walks and talk. As a mentor in the Welcome Home Reentry Program, Cami introduced Ramona to many new possibilities and the two worked together to set and ultimately meet goals for Ramona.

While Ramona was working on meeting her goals—moving out of the halfway house and finding steady employment—Cami was setting and meeting her own goals. The two continued to meet at the gym and go for walks. A regular topic was the need for a women’s group for returning citizens. Where women can come to discuss the unique issues they face after incarceration. Too many women return to unsafe relationships or unsupported environments.

The two brought the idea to Catholic Charities, and now Ramona’s women’s group meets biweekly. The Welcome Home Reentry program allowed Ramona to see that her past doesn’t have to define her future. Cami and Ramona maintain a close bond and continue to support one another and share in each other’s successes.

“THIS PROGRAM HELPED ME FIND MY FULFILLMENT FROM DIFFERENT THINGS.”

Building a Legacy

“When you see your parents always involved in charitable activities, that example embeds itself in you to also give back. And you understand that when we talk about time, talent, and treasure, the treasure part is really what helps other people, and the time part is what helps you.”

Michael Clancy

FOR THE CLANCY FAMILY, IT'S ABOUT MORE THAN CATHOLIC CHARITIES.

At the heart of the Catholic faith is loving God and loving your neighbor, and that means having a certain responsibility to those who are poor, not in good health, or otherwise in need.

It is this long-held belief that made it only natural for the Clancy family to get involved with Catholic Charities.

The family knew several priests, who introduced Pat and Mary Anne to Catholic Charities. Their first touch point was attending a gala. And for a while that was their only connection, but then Mary Anne decided to take their participation up a notch. The couple chaired the 1993 Annual Gala. Next, Mary Anne served on the Board from 1995 to 2000 and was Chair for the last two years of her term. Pat was the founding Chairman of the Catholic Charities Foundation beginning in 2002 and remained on that Board or the Board of Catholic Charities until 2017.

In 2002 Mary Anne joined the advisory board of the SHARE Food Network and she soon began volunteering with the SHARE Food Network. For years, she and one or more of her grandchildren would routinely volunteer to help package food for distribution. Mrs. Clancy was leading by a hands-on example, but her grandchildren were not only influenced by her—their parents also give.

About a decade ago, Michael and Haven Clancy privately set up a foundation that collects blankets, socks, toiletries, and other necessities to deliver to the homeless in the District. They were so private about it, they had been doing it for several years before their parents even found out. Michael was inspired by his children going to SHARE with their grandmother and wanted to do something to continue this legacy.

For the Clancy family, giving back is simply a part of who they are. Passing along through generations the blessings that come from giving back, they are called by the teachings of Jesus to take care of people.

Whether it is serving on the board, attending the gala, volunteering with their children, or watching their grandchildren intern at Catholic Charities, the Clancy's are leaving their mark and ensuring they leave the world a better place.

While their commitment to Catholic Charities is rooted in their faith, they have helped countless others see that a gift to Catholic Charities is not a gift to a religious organization, but rather a donation to a community endeavor.

This last year has been a time of incredible challenge and incredible growth for Catholic Charities. We have expanded our services in underserved communities through the opening of the Susan D. Mona Center in Prince George's County and our new, larger Angel's Watch facility in Southern Maryland. These new facilities allow us to provide care and compassion to even more people in need.

Sadly, as a community we faced many unpleasant and unfathomable truths about some members of the Church. And as we all come to terms with what this means to our faith, we at Catholic Charities continued to serve. We served the young mother who came to us in need of food for her children, we served the immigrant who was seeking a better future, we served the elderly man in need of medical care, in all nearly 143,000 men, women, and children came to us in need last year.

And whether it was your time, your treasure, or your talent you helped us meet the needs of our most vulnerable neighbors. From housing to legal assistance, to nutrition, clothing, dental and medical care, and so much more, Catholic Charities actively lives out the word of the Gospel through our work. We know that without your compassion, commitment, and generosity we would not be able to say "Yes" when someone comes to us in need.

As always, our deepest thanks and prayers are with you and those you hold most dear for including Catholic Charities in your life.
