JUNETEENTH

Freedom Day
June 19th

A Celebration of Juneteenth at SHARE

By: Ashley Woods, SHARE Food Network's Nutrition Educator

Do you know what Juneteenth is? On June 19, 1865, Union soldiers arrived in Galveston, announcing the end of slavery and igniting jubilant celebrations among the newly freed. For many, the Juneteenth holiday represents the enduring pursuit of liberation and justice. It serves as a reminder of the struggles endured and the progress yet to be achieved. As we reflect on the significance of this historic milestone, it is imperative to acknowledge the intersecting narratives of freedom and access to resources.

At SHARE Food Network, we are committed to empowerment and equitable access to food resources. While Juneteenth celebrates emancipation, it also prompts us to confront the enduring disparities that persist in our society, particularly in areas such as food security. We serve as a resource where all are welcome to access affordable and nutritious food without any application or qualification process. Therefore, as we celebrate Juneteenth, we reaffirm our commitment to dismantling barriers to food access and fostering inclusive spaces where all individuals can thrive.

In the spirit of Juneteenth, we will continue our commitment to providing low-cost food options to everyone including underserved communities. Additionally, if one is seeking food resources such as SNAP benefits, we can assist with the application process.

Juneteenth serves as a powerful reminder of the importance of community resilience. We would like to say Thank You, to all of our host-sites and our many volunteers. Through solidarity and collaboration, we can continue to build a community where everyone has equitable access to healthy food.

Happy Juneteenth!

This month's recipe:

Crab Boil

Prep: 30 min Cook: 60 min Total: 90 minutes

Ingredients:

- ◆ 4lb Crab (Legs/Claws)
- ◆ 2lb Shrimp
- ◆ 15 Clams (scrubbed clean)
- ◆ 1 pack Smoked Kielbasa Sausage, cut into 2in pcs
- ◆ 6 Ears Sweet Corn, halved
- ◆ 2lb Medium Red Potatoes, cut in halves
- ◆ 1 Sweet Onion, chopped
- ◆ 2 cloves Garlic, minced
- ◆ 1 bunch fresh thyme, tied with string
- ◆ 3 Bay Leaves
- ◆ 3 Serrano Chilies, chopped
- ◆ 1/2 Lemon
- ◆ 1/2 c seafood seasoning

Instructions

1. Fill a large stockpot fitted with a basket insert with about 8 quarts of water. Squeeze lemons into the water, tossing the halves in too. Add onions, chiles, garlic, thyme, seafood seasoning, kosher salt, and bay leaves; bring to a boil over medium-high heat. Reduce heat and simmer for 10 minutes.
2. Stir potatoes into the pot and simmer for 15 to 20 minutes.
3. Add clams and boil until they open, about 8 minutes. Toss in shrimp and shut off the heat. Cover the pot and let shrimp steep in the flavor for 10 minutes, adding crab in the last 5 minutes (press them into the liquid).
4. Drain and spread crab, shrimp, sausage, clams, corn, potatoes, and onions out on a newspaper-covered table or on a large serving tray. Sprinkle with a dusting of Old Bay or Seafood seasoning of choice. Enjoy!

SHARE Food Network's NEW Operations Manager

By: Yonette Wilson Williams, SHARE Senior Director

We all know that when God decides to move, he doesn't just move a little bit. He moves A LOT! At SHARE we are in a season of newness: new food, upcoming software, Outreach Coordinator and now a new Operations Manager! I am especially excited to officially introduce Thomas Roddy as SHARE's new Operations Manager. While Tom (as he's known by) is new to SHARE, he is not new to Catholic Charities nor the work we do at SHARE.

Tom has been an employee of Catholic Charities for 10 years. He has served as a Catholic Charities Administrative Assistant, Benefits Coordinator, Program Supervisor and now Operations Manager for the SHARE program. Tom brings with him an immense amount of experience and most importantly a heart for serving others. If you get a chance to stop into the warehouse or call, join me in personally welcoming him to the SHARE
